Description

The new Commission Implementing Regulation laying down common requirements for service providers and the oversight in air traffic management/air navigation services (ATM/ANS) and other air traffic management (ATM) network functions (incl. Part-DAT) has been published.

In order to assist stakeholders to prepare for the implementation, EASA organises a workshop focusing on the new requirements and aiming to familiarise with the use of Acceptable Means of Compliance and Guidance Material, being established by the Agency.

The workshop targets those service providers holding currently EASA LoA and other parties of interest as well. This would be also a possibility for the future DAT providers to meet their competent authority, i.e. EASA personnel engaged in the ATM/ANS oversight activities.

The one-day workshop will take place in Cologne, Germany, on 10 November 2016.

The Agenda is anticipated to cover at least the following topics:

- Applicable requirements for DAT providers;
- The use of Acceptable Means of Compliance (AMC) and Guidance Material (GM)
- Certification Process; Application
- Open Discussion
