

Fees & Charges - FAQ

The level of fees payable by applicants for certificates and approvals issued, maintained or amended by the Agency, and of charges for publications, handling of appeals, training and any other service provided by the Agency are determined by Commission Implementing Regulation \(EU\) 2019/2153.

EASA periodically reviews its Fees and Charges to align them with changes in the aviation sector and its own cost basis. The last review was undertaken in 2019 and resulted in Commission Implementing Regulation \(EU\) 2019/2153.

During 2018 the Agency has consulted extensively with its stakeholders to design the amendment to its Fees & Charges system that prepares it for upcoming challenges in the medium and long terms.

The proposal has now been incorporated into an Implementing Regulation of the Commission Implementing Regulation that has been published on 16 December 2019. The new regulation has entered into force on 1 January 2020.

This page compiles Frequently Asked Questions concerning the Agency's system of Fees & Charges.

In general, all EASA certification tasks and service activities are chargeable. Implementing Regulation \(EU\) 2019/2153 of the European Commission requires the Agency to levy fees for the issuance of certificates and approvals and to levy charges for the provision of services.

The applicable Regulation and further information can be found under Fees and charges regulations.

Link:<https://www.easa.europa.eu/en/faq/19294>A.3 - When do I have to pay?*Answer

Based on your application or based on your Certificate or Approval under the Agency's surveillance, you shall receive an invoice notifying you of the fee or charge to be paid. (EASA invoices feature the word "Invoice" in the title and an eight-digit document invoice number starting with the digits '90'). Please do not pay anything before you have received such an invoice. The Terms of Payment (General Terms of Payment) for all invoices is 30 days.

Invoices are issued depending on the nature of the fee or charge:

- tasks which give rise to the payment of a flat rate: after receipt of the application at EASA;
- tasks which give rise to the payment of a flat rate occurring after the issuance of the certificate (e.g. continued airworthiness activities, oversight activities): before the start of the annual billing cycle;

- tasks which give rise to the payment of fees or charges on an hourly basis:
invoicing is either on a quarterly, yearly or monthly basis.

In some cases a payment is required before the project can start or continue; in the case of hourly charging the invoice is based on the estimated number of working hours.

Travel costs are charged as soon as the related data becomes available.

Answer

- For those tasks referred to in Tables 1, 2, 3, 6 (point (1) of Part I of the Annex to Implementing Regulation 2019/2153, levied per application and per period of 12 months, the balance of any fees or charges due for the ongoing 12-month period shall be 1/365th of the relevant annual fee/charge per day. - For fees referred to in Part II of the Annex, levied on an hourly basis, the balance of any fees due shall be calculated on an hourly basis;
- For other services, all costs shall be payable in full at the time EASA stops working.

Where an interruption of the performance of a task related to an application takes effect within the first billing cycle, the fees for that billing cycle shall not be reimbursed. Where such interruption takes effect after the first billing cycle, the balance of any fees due shall be calculated in accordance with the above mentioned criteria.

In the event that a project is reactivated automatically after the expiration of the interruption period or at the request of the applicant, the task shall be charged a new fee/charge, irrespective of the fees/charges already paid for the interrupted task.

B - Fees for the Certification of Products

How are the Rotorcraft Product categories defined for the calculation of the EASA Fees and Charges?

Answer

Implementing Regulation 2019/2153 establishes the EASA Fees and Charges and defines in Part V points (2) and (3) the following categories of Rotorcraft Products for this purpose (only):

“‘VTOL’ refers to rotorcraft or any other heavier-than-air aircraft that has the capability of vertical take-off and/or vertical landing. ‘HTOL’ refers to any heavier-than-air aircraft that is not a VTOL.”

“‘VTOL Large Aircraft’ refers to CS-29 and CS-27 CAT A aircraft; ‘VTOL Small Aircraft’ refers to CS-27 aircraft with maximum take-off weight (MTOW) below 3 175 kg and limited to 4 seats, including pilot; ‘VTOL Medium Aircraft’ refers to other CS-27 aircraft.”

The applicable Fees and Charges category for each product can be consulted in the EASA website under 'Product Lists'.

B.2 - Can EASA confirm that a single application may be submitted covering several aircraft types or models if the same change is applicable to these aircraft types or models?

Answer

In general, one application for TC, RTC, STC, Major and Minor Change can cover several models but not more than one type per certificate. EASA may deviate from this principle,

- when validating foreign approvals. For the validation of STCs and major changes, EASA shall process the application in the same way as the certifying authority. If the certifying authority has processed such an application as a single application, then EASA shall do likewise;

- if the technical change is identical for several product types and if no type specific compliance finding is required.

B.3 - In which MTOW category is the aircraft for which I want to submit an application for TC, Major Change, STC, Minor Change or for which I have to pay CAW fees as TC holder?

Answer

The MTOW category depends on the TC only, irrespective whether the individual aircraft model differs from the MTOW of the TC.

The MTOW category for the TC is predetermined by the majority (>50%) of models that belong to the TC. In the event that there is an equal number of models, meaning not above 50% in either MTOW category, the higher category is applicable.

The TC category determines all subsequent applications, including the model fee and CAW fees.

<https://www.easa.europa.eu/en/faq/19310>

B.4 - Does my aircraft belong to a higher fee category because it is a High Performance?

Answer

Not necessarily: it depends on the performance category of the majority of aircraft models belonging to one TC. The higher fee category (=higher MTOW category) is applicable when the majority or equal number of models ($\geq 50\%$) are HPA.

The TC category determines all subsequent applications, including the model fee and CAW fees.

The approval flat fees (organisation and device) are applicable to all new applications received after 1 January 2020.

Maintenance Review Board (MRB) applications charged based on Implementing Regulation 2019/2153?

Answer

Flat charges are applied in case of submittal to the Agency of a CSV and/or MRB application after 1 January 2020, in accordance with the provisions of Article 15 of Implementing Regulation 2019/2153.

Please note the exception related to CSV applications - Part V “Explanatory Note” of the Annex to Implementing Regulation 2019/2153 – note (10).

The reference Annex tables are Table 5 – CSV and table 6 – MRB.

The CSV charges are applied per application.

(Please refer also to Part V “Explanatory Note” of the Annex to Implementing Regulation 2019/2153 – note (10) – for relevant details.)

The Initial MRB report applications are charged per application and per period of 12 months.

The Revision of MRB reports applications are charged per application.

E - Charging of travel costs

E.1 - Are travel costs included in Fees and Charges?

Answer

Not all travel costs are included in fees or charges; they are charged separately under the following conditions:

- For certification tasks, the fee corresponding to the task does not include the travel costs outside the EU member states (Article 6 (1) and (2) of Implementing Regulation 2019/2153).
- For services related to certification tasks, the travel costs are charged in the same manner as the certification task (Article 6 (1) and (2)).
 - For other services (i.e. Training services subject to charges) the cost of travel within and outside the EU member states shall be invoiced in addition to the charges due. Please note that the "e" component is not applicable (Ref. Article 6 and Part IIa Point C of the Annex to CIR (EU) 2019/2153).
 - All travel costs shall be divided accordingly amongst applicants if an expert worked on more than one project in the course of a single trip.
- An itemized breakdown of costs shall be provided without supporting documents (e.g. hotel bills, air fare) to protect the personal and financial data of the experts involved

Further to the Agency's travel policy, all experts must use the most appropriate and cost-effective means of transport. As far as possible, public or shared transport shall be used.

Air travel

All flight tickets shall be booked according to the following conditions:

- in economy class or equivalent, at the lowest available rates, taking into account the times of meetings and/or special features of the mission for all segments that involve up to four hours continuous flying time;
- in business class or equivalent, at the lowest available rates, taking into account the times of meetings and/or special features of the mission if the travel includes at least one segment involving at least four hours continuous flying time
If lower fare prices require a weekend stay (Sunday rule), additional per diems may be charged.

All journeys shall be booked in first-class, taking the shortest and most cost-effective route.

E.5 - Travel time

Answer

The time spent by an expert in the means of transport is charged at the hourly rate. In general, Standard number of travel hours per destination is used. The standard travel time is comprised of various components:

- Travel time is counted from the time of departure from the normal place of work of the expert (or home, if he/she leaves directly from home) to his/her arrival at the destination. The destination shall be the place at which the certification task or service is to be performed.
- No travel time shall be charged for any kind of transport delay, regardless of the cause.

- No more than 12 hours travel time shall be charged to any calendar day. For the purpose of travel time calculation, a calendar day is calculated on the basis of the local time at destination. This means that if an expert leaves Chicago the evening of day N and lands in Cologne on day N+1 he / she would have been travelling over 2 calendar days.

E.6 - What is the “e” - component?

Answer

When travelling to non-EU destinations to conduct certification or service related tasks, the travel costs inside the territories of the Member States have to be deducted from the total travel costs. This is done through the application of the "e" component. The "e" component covers the average time spent by experts in the means of transport inside the territories of the Member States multiplied by the hourly fee as well as the average ticket costs inside the member states. The "e" component shall be clearly indicated in the travel costs break downs provided by the Agency. The total amount of the "e" component shall be revised once a year.
