Description

The Proof of Concept of the Data4Safety Programme* is now over! Join us to get insights about what has been achieved by the D4S Founding Members and what's next for the D4S Programme.

Data4Safety (D4S) is the European data analysis and sharing programme launched in 2017 by EASA, in collaboration with 14 voluntary European aviation safety partners. D4S aims to collect and share the most valuable sources of aviation data in a highly protected environment. In this environment, aviation partners can join forces with data scientists to infer knowledge and produce actionable safety intelligence for Europe. This is achieved by leveraging cutting-edge big-data technologies and digital solutions.
